

At times the boat travels very fast. The second crew is considerably strengthened by Turner coming in to it, but the oars are not quite together yet. A good deal of work is done in the boat, and they should render a good account of themselves.

In the 3rd crew Bacon, bow, is rowing well, but does not keep his blade covered quite to the finish. Anderson is weak in body swing, Chambers is rowing hard though rather clumsily, Prynne does not finish the stroke out sufficiently.

SHOOTING.

[BY THE VETERAN.]

Considering that only three old Colours remained as a nucleus for this year's teams, we have been fairly successful in matches this term, without compiling any alarmingly high scores. Several recruits to the new organization of the School Corps show promising form with the rifle, which we may accept as a good augury for the future. It would, perhaps, be not altogether out of place to remind the majority of those who will represent the School at Bisley this year, that they have still much to learn in the art of rifle-shooting. As members of a team, they should bear in mind that to achieve success, implicit obedience to, and confidence in, their Captain are required,

With regard to individuals, the 'Hints on Shooting,' which were given in February last year (Ousel, Vol. VII, No. 210), are particularly opportune just now. Yet again we would urge: Aim straight, as told; do not cant the rifle; see that the sights are upright; note the exact aim, on the proper target, when the shot goes; take no notice of anybody outside your own team; remember that you represent your School, not yourself; and above all that 'a battle is not lost till it is won.'

DUMMY DIVING (July 1st & 2nd).

This competition took place at the Baths on Friday and Saturday, and was won by Pendlebury with 57½ marks, Peppé being second with 54½; no other competitor got more than 30. The dummy was generally carried well, but most of the rescuers did not deposit it on the bank as gently as appears advisable.
